ANOTHER DAY ON THE RIVER: NO YOUNG HERO TO CHERISH [A short story by me and @TekkenMissions about a the events leading to Tia's arrival in Cyborg.] Dawn barely rose in the break of day. The sky was almost completely blue, and a thick layer of clouds trailed down from the Great Sky Island over the river today. That had not been the case the day before, last night. The single boat with three men on board was heading in the direction of Layzner's bloody pod. 'This is going to be difficult,' the man seated next to the one in the front muttered. The other men on board seemed to understand. They merely nodded. The burning smell of rubber filled the air as the boat neared the island. Dawn struck it with a loud clang. The two guards at the wharf rushed out to inspect the damaged vessel, but the man quickly cleared them. 'Leave this,' he said to them and pointed at the rubber- burning boat. 'Leave this.' The groaning sounded like it was coming from the boat. 'Put it out,' he said to them. Goro and Beteru were also getting the boat ready. Goro then heard a sound approaching from the island. He quickly sneaked up to the

Northern NJ's North Jersey Coast Line Route stretches over 581 miles between North Jersey and Long Island, with trains operating on this line covering over 1,100,000 passengers and hauling 800,000 metric tons of freight. The route's older locomotives are honored with the naming rights of the route, and you will operate them in Train Simulator. Features: North Jersey Coast Line in its entirety: the coastal route between North Jersey and Long Island! Improved terminals at both ends of the route allow for the inclusion of the New York and Long Branch branches. The terminals are quite detailed and feature a unique balance of train handling and landscape animation! The North Jersey Coast Line was also the testbed of the P42 and P42A locomotives, so they are in full view of the route - and you are the P42! Improved passenger stations in the New York City area allow for longer, stylish trains. Use unique North Jersey Coast Line locomotives, many
